

DIPLOMACY

ALBER & GEIGER is a premier global strategy firm helping clients navigate the intersection between business, finance, government and civil society in markets around the world. Success depends on understanding the global parameters impacting economies and societies. Alber & Geiger's Diplomacy service supports governments, companies and NGOs to navigate the complex and changing worlds of geopolitics and global economics. We work with top executives and government officials to achieve their strategic goals with the necessary political support. We are your diplomatic service.

We work for our clients in the policy making processes of the international political power hubs, the world capitals and International Organizations. We provide our clients with political intelligence, political risk assessment and market entry support. We advise them on government relations, we assist them on coalition building, global positioning and trade relations. We help them to overcome potential antitrust and regulatory barriers. We guide them through treaty developments and investment policies.

Governments, businesses and NGOs benefit from applying the techniques of diplomacy to help manage their political, regulatory, legal and economic challenges. Today, success increasingly depends on understanding the global parameters impacting economies and societies. Alber &

Geiger successfully assists its clients in developing their political tactics and corporate strategies to identify, change and match those demands.

With a team that includes former high-ranking politicians, officials and top lawyers we understand politics, the needs of business environments and the possibilities to realize them in society. In today's complex global environment, international enterprises turn to Alber & Geiger to help them seize opportunities, assess and manage risk and solve problems worldwide. We offer solutions that are tailored to our clients' specific priorities and objectives, working collaboratively with them to develop and implement action plans that meet their goals.

We pride ourselves on our global team - comprised of experts in international government relations, foreign policy, law, management consulting, finance and regional politics.

Alber & Geiger. We get it done.
